

Hello new friend, it's nice to meet you!
I'm a scout Elf, with a special job to do.

Santa has sent me, from the chilly North Pole
Keep a close eye on you, and report back is my goal.

I was given strict instructions, by Santa himself
I'll share them with you, now that I'm your elf.

"Let me know, if they are naughty or nice"
"Come back every night and give me advice"

"I'm relying on you, to help me this season"
"Remind them to be kind, no matter the reason."

"Help Mom and Dad, and be a good friend"
"Be thankful for the little things, they matter most in the end"

Each night I go home, and in the morning come back
Usually in a new spot, and sometimes with a snack.

There are only two rules, that you must be taught
The first is quite easy, touch me you must not.

The second is important, and you must do it tonight,
Give me a special name, so my magic can take flight.

That's all I have for now, I'm excited to be here
Remember to be good and spread some holiday cheer!

YOUR ELF
